NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW IT CAREFULLY

The Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) is a federal program that requires that all medical records and other individually identifiable health information used or disclosed by us in any form, whether electronically, on paper, or orally, are kept confidential. This Act gives you, the patient, significant new rights to understand and control how your health information is used. “HIPAA” provides penalties for covered entities that misuse personal health information.

As required by “HIPAA”, we have prepared this explanation of how we are required to maintain the privacy of your health information and how we may use and disclose your health information.
We may use and disclose your medical records only for each of the following purposes: treatment, payment and health care operations.

 Treatment means providing, coordinating, or managing health care and related services by one or more health care providers. An example of this would include a physical examination.
 Payment means such activities as obtaining reimbursement for services, confirming coverage, billing or collection activities, and utilization review. An example of this would be sending a bill for your visit to your insurance company for payment.
Health care operations include the business aspects of running our practice, such as conducting quality assessment and improvement activities, auditing functions, cost-management analysis, and customer service. An example would be an internal quality assessment review.

We may also create and distribute de-identified health information by removing all references to individually identifiable information. We may contact you to provide appointment reminders or information about treatment alternatives or other health-related benefits and services that may be of interest to you. Any other uses and disclosures will be made only with your written authorization. You may revoke such authorization in writing and we are required to honor and abide by that written request, except to the extent that we have already taken actions relying on your authorization.

Our practice may disclose your health information without your authorization when permitted or required by law, including:

 For public health actions including reporting of certain communicable diseases
 To authorities when we suspect abuse, neglect, or domestic violence
 To avert a serious threat to your health & safety or that of others
 For judicial and administrative proceedings pursuant to an administrative order
 For governmental purposes such as military service or for national security
 For workers’ compensation or similar programs as required by law
 To health oversight agencies
 For law enforcement purposes
 In the event of an emergency or for disaster relief
 In any other instance required by law

Practice may also disclose your information to family members, such as your spouse, and/or other persons involved in your care or payment for your care. Practice may leave messages for you at home or work about your visits or test results. If you do not want us to do so, please inform our Privacy officer in writing

You have the following rights with respect to your protected health information, which you can exercise by presenting a written request to the privacy officer:

The right to request restrictions on certain uses and disclosures of protected health information, including those related to disclosures to family members, other relatives, close personal friends, or any other person identified by you. We are, however, not required to agree to a requested restriction. If we do agree to a restriction, we must abide by it unless you agree in writing to remove it.
The right to reasonable requests to receive confidential communications of protected health information from us by alternative means or at alternative locations
The right to receive a list of disclosures of protected health information
The right to amend protected health information
The right to obtain a paper copy of this notice from us upon request
The right to inspect & copy your protected health information

We’re required by law to maintain the privacy of your protected health information and to provide you with notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to protected health information.

The notice is effective as of March 1, 2003, and we are required to abide by the terms of the Notice of Privacy Practices currently in effect. We reserve the right to change the terms of our Notices of Privacy practices and to make the new notice provisions effective for all protected health information that we maintain. We will post and you may request a written copy of a revised Notice of Privacy Practices from this office. You have recourse if you feel that your privacy protections have been violated. You have the right to file a written complaint with our office, or with the Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Civil Rights, about violations of the provisions of this notice or the policies and procedures of our office. We will not retaliate against you for filing a complaint.

For more information about HIPAA or to file a complaint, please contact us:

Patient – Healthcare Provider Electronic Communication Agreement

Patient Name: _____ DOB: _____

Electronic communication, including but not limited to emails, internet based video conferencing through such applications as Skype, and FaceTime through iPhones and iPads, for example (hereinafter "Electronic Communications") provide an opportunity to communicate with your Healthcare Provider (hereinafter "ARMS") relative to issues that are non-emergent, non-urgent or non-critical. Electronic Communications are not a replacement for the interpersonal contact that is the very basis of the doctor-patient relationship.

The following is intended to assist you with your determination of whether you wish to supplement your healthcare experience by electronically communicating with members of the healthcare team Arizona Reproductive Medicine Specialists (ARMS).

General Considerations

- ARMS will treat Electronic Communication with the same degree of privacy and confidentially as written medical records. ARMS has taken reasonable step with internal information technology systems to protect the security and privacy of your personal identifying and health information in accordance with the security guidelines required by the Health Information Protection and Accountability Act of 1992 as amended (HIPAA).
- Standard email services, including, but not limited to AOL, OptOnline, Hotmail, and Gmail, are not secure. This means that the email messages are not encrypted and can be intercepted and read by unauthorized individuals.
- Electronic communication via internet based video conference providers, including, but not limited to Skype, claim to have safeguards, in place to protect your personal information from unauthorized disclosure. However, there is the possibility that viruses, Trojans or other malicious software may obtain you private information on your computer system and release and/or use your information without your knowledge. There may be other risks associated with internet communication with are unknown at this time.
- Transmitting email that contains protected health information through an email system that is not encrypted do not meet and electronic communication via internet based video conference providers may not meet the security guidelines as required by the HIPAA.

I have read and understood the above description of the risks and responsibilities associated with Electronic Communications with ARMS. I acknowledge that commonly used Electronic Communications are not secure and fall outside of the security requirements set forth by HIPPA.

I understand that I can withdraw this consent authorizing ARMS to communicate with me via Electronic Communications at any time by written notification to ARMS

I release and hold harmless ARMS, its physicians and their staff, employees, affiliates, agents, officers, directors and shareholders from any and all expenses, claims, actions, liabilities, attorney fees, damages, losses, of any kind, that I may have resulting from Electronic Communications between ARMS and me based on this authorization given to the ARMS to communicated with me via Electronic Communications. This release includes Arizona Reproductive Medicine Specialists' management services company and its offices, director, employees, representatives and agents.

Having been informed of the risks associated with Electronic Communications, I still desire to communicate with ARMS via electronic communications. In consideration for any desire to use Electronic Communications as an adjunct to in person office visits with ARMS, I do hereby authorize ARMS to engage in Electronic Communications with me.
